September. "Halls that have echoed only the summer workman's step once more echo the joyous sounds of youthful voices raised in. . ."

So goes the first pages of the high school annual in phrases the kinder critic would call almost poetic. What is lacking of those finer attributes of good literature is surely made up for by the obvious enthusiasm of the yearbook's staff of writers. But oh, the folly of it all! For who appreciates the hours spent staring at a typewriter when staring at a member of the opposite sex would be so much more enjoyable? Who is to appreciate the hint of talent in the struggling writer's efforts? The truth must be faced. Who ever heard of reading a yearbook? A yearbook is pictures to be looked at, faces to find in the crowd, margins to be filled with classmates' witty comments . . . but to read? Ridiculous.

Temptation. In that desolate wasteland between the pictures almost there is a temptation to actually say something.

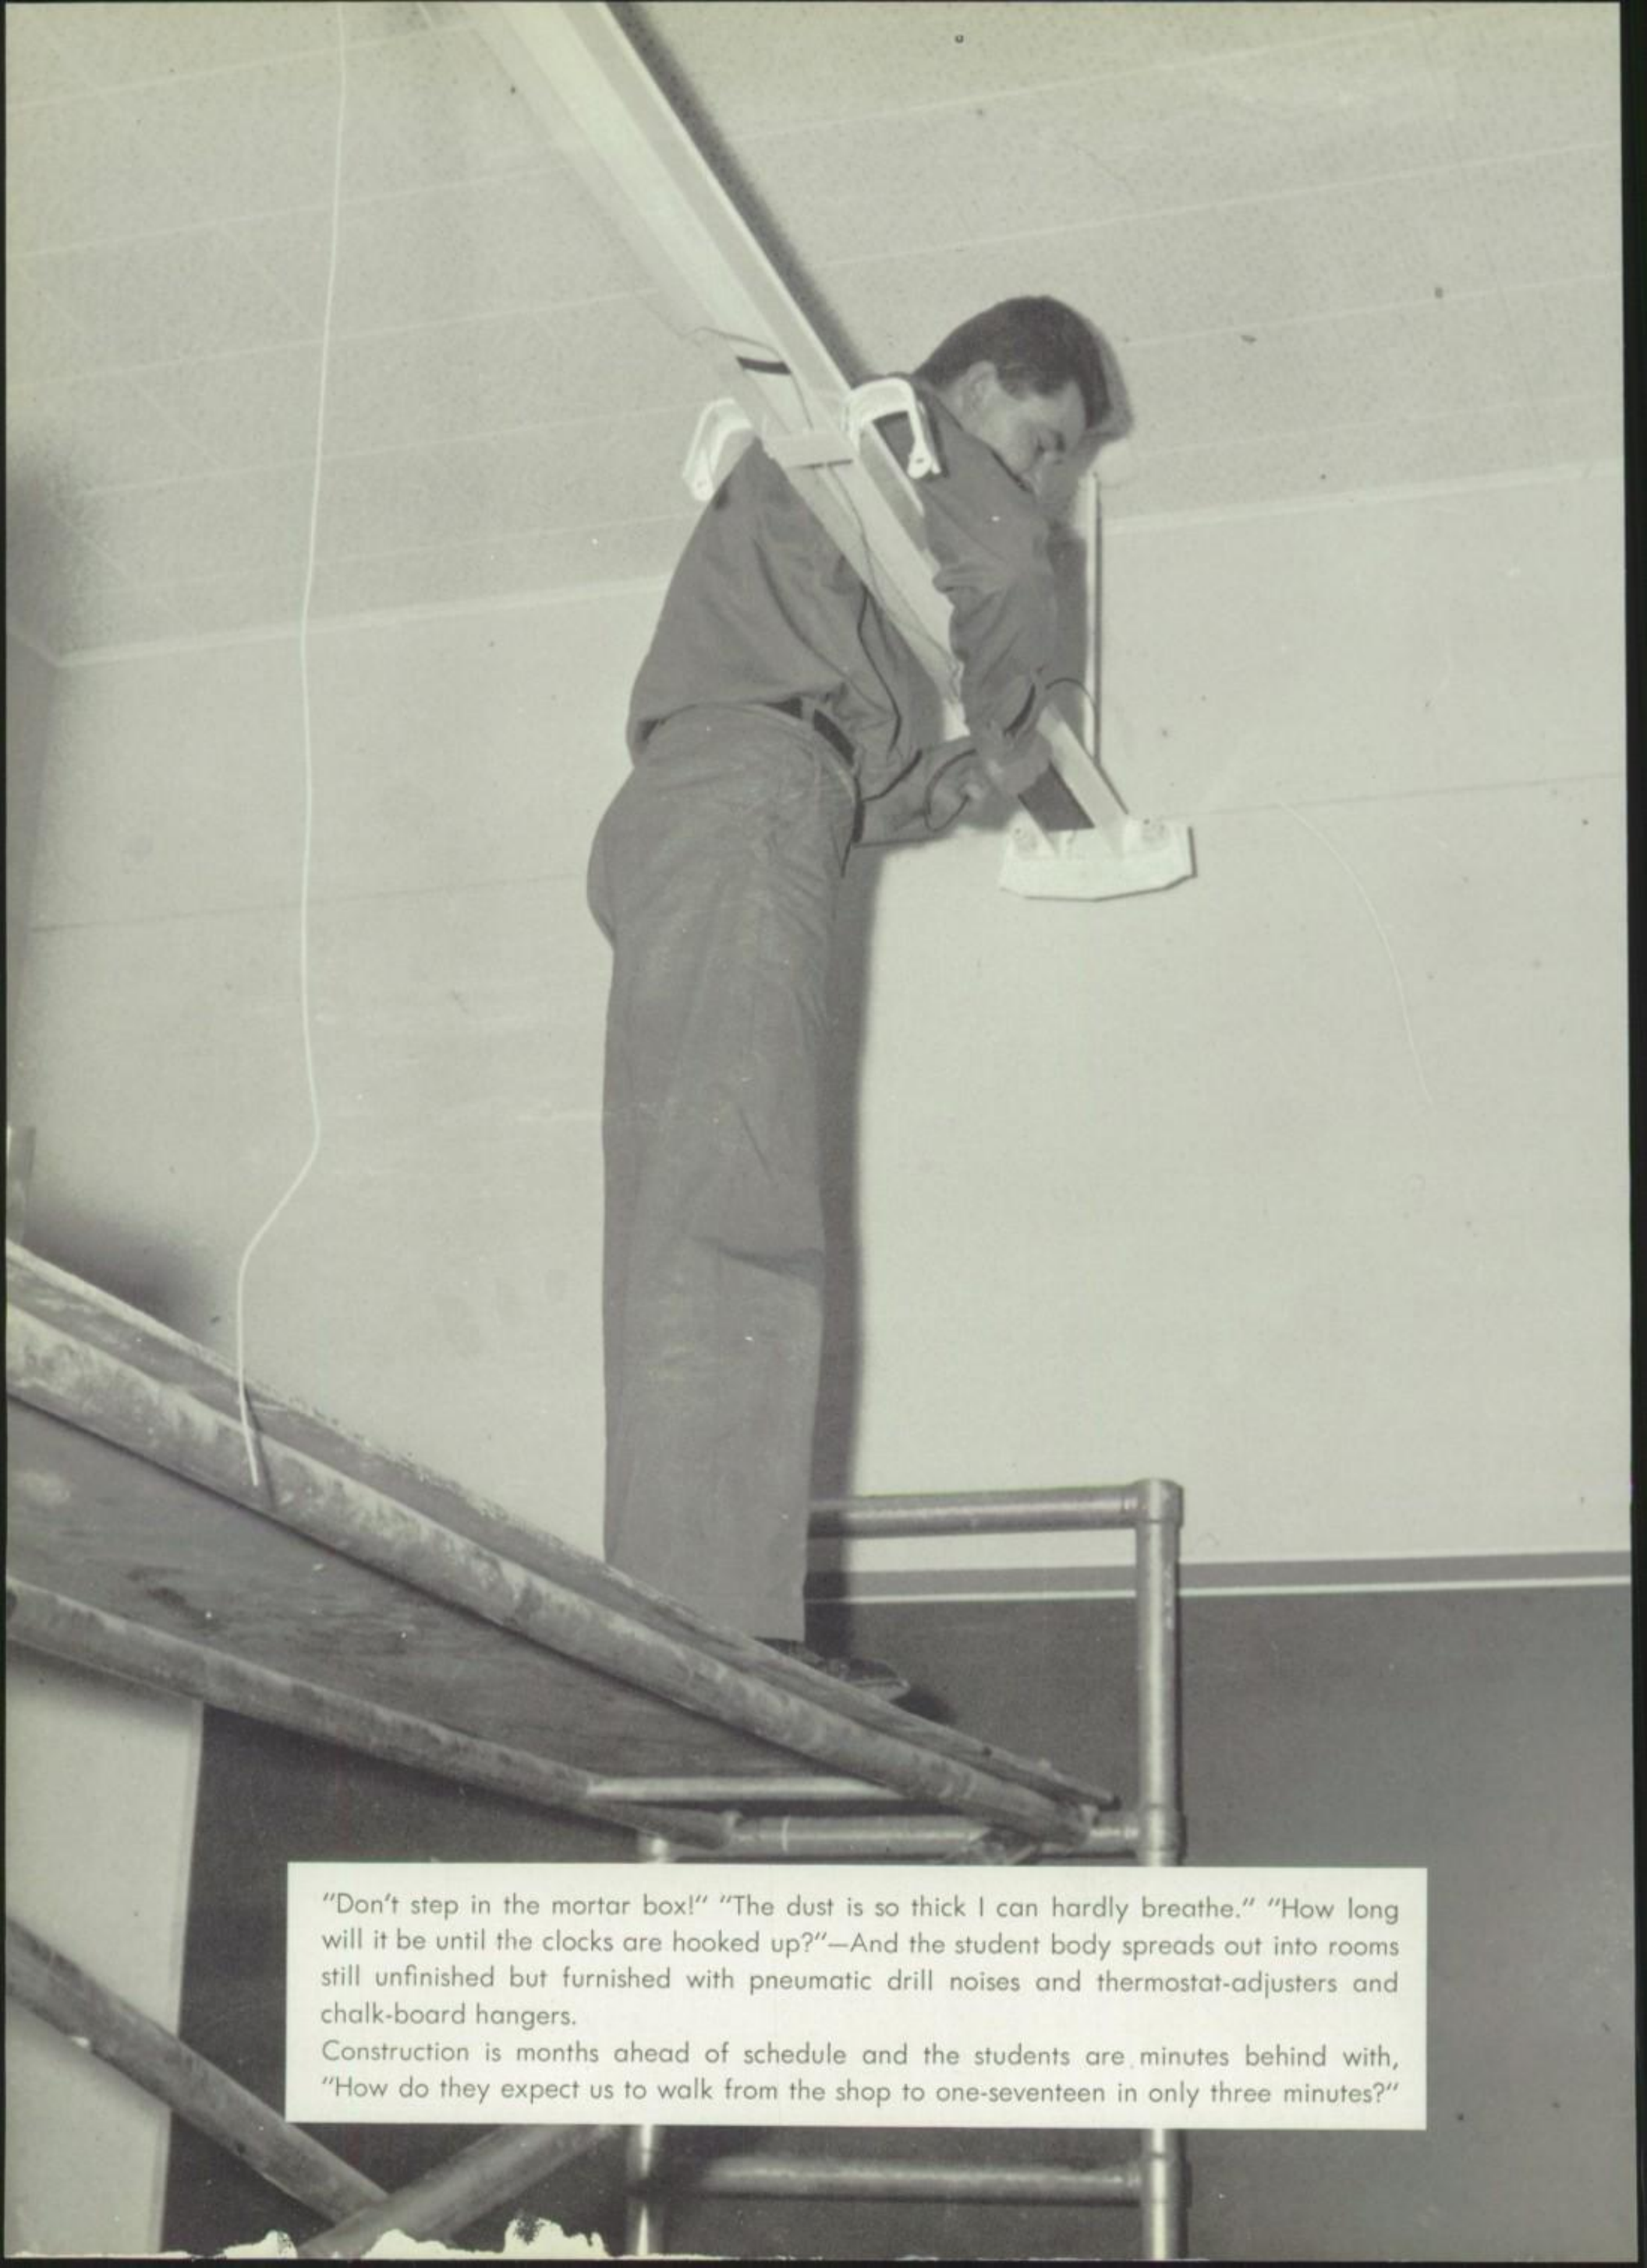
"Pictured above is Mr. Z., an able teacher whose exams may be avoided or postponed by an artful suggestion of the subject of duck hunting."

Or,

"Here is the Happy Day Club. Their meetings were marked by confusion and inactivity. Not long after the picture was taken the club died of natural causes.

We may not yield to temptation. Then again, we may. . .

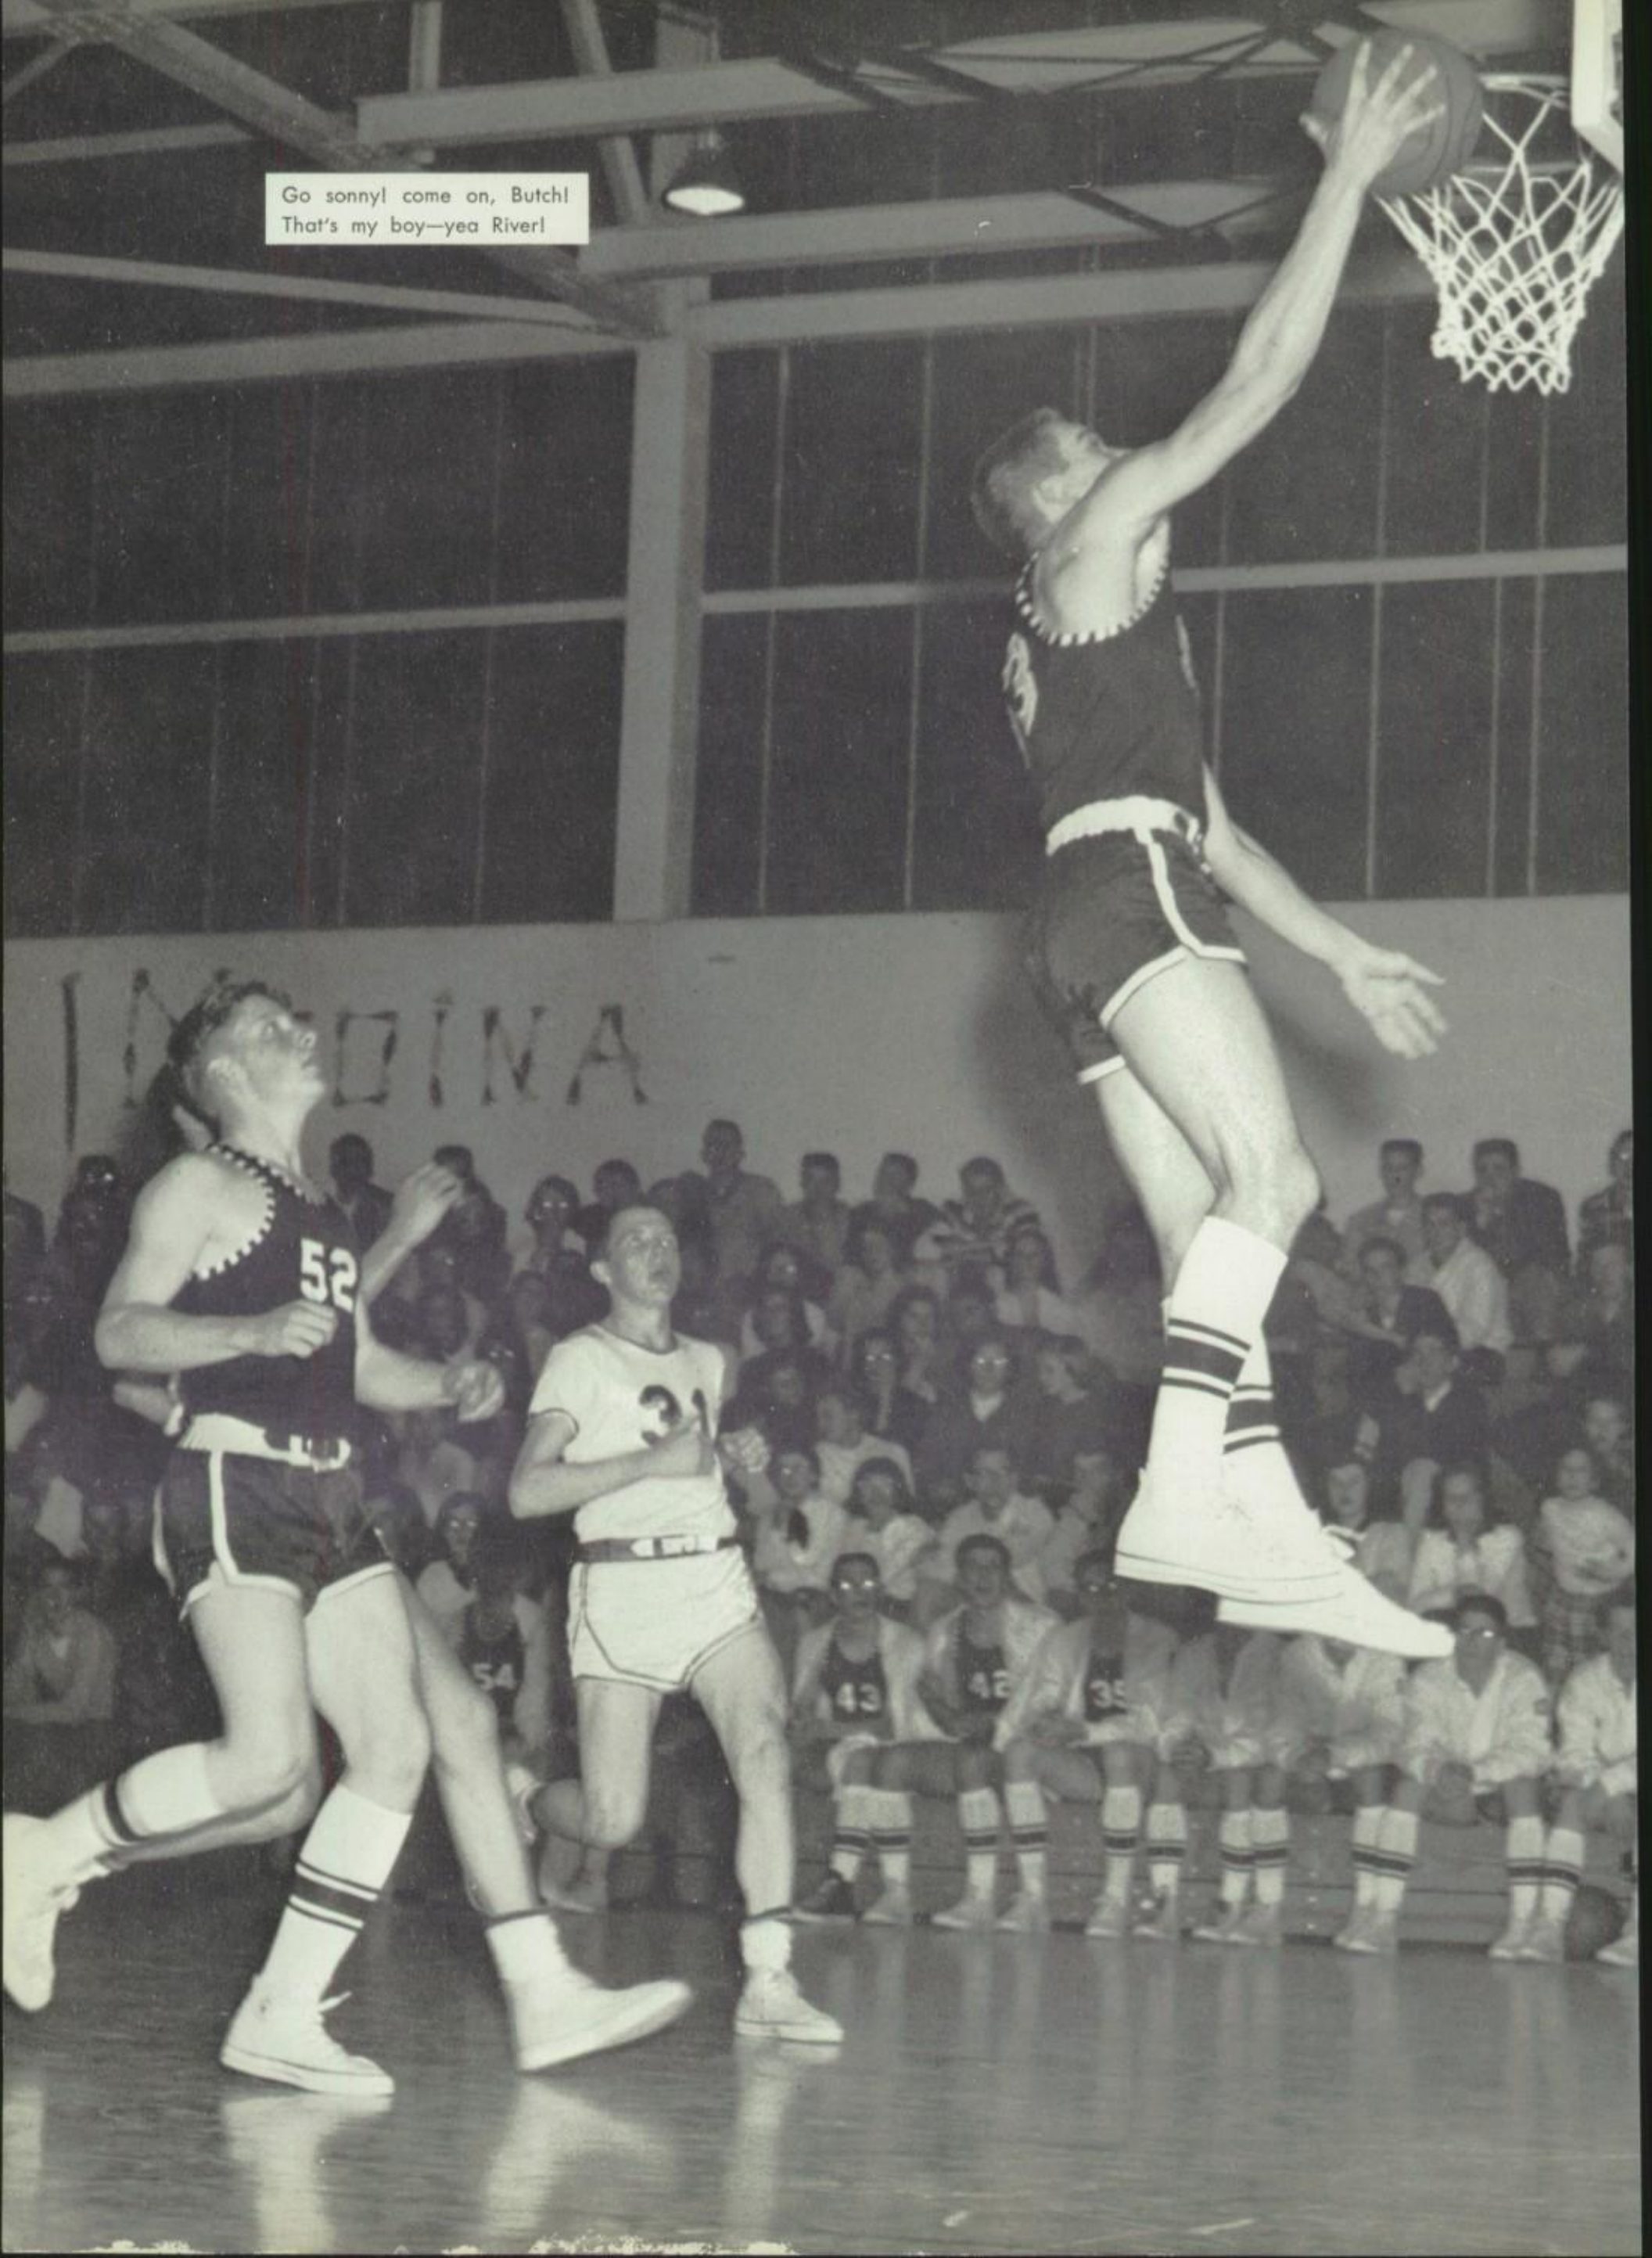
Study hall. Ten forty-two . . . thirty-eight more minutes . . . three more pages of American history notes . . . gee, I'm sleepy . . . wish she'd pass me a note . . .there goes a new Edsel . . . I wish it were Friday . . . ten forty-five . . . thirty-five more minutes . . . three more pages of American history to go . . .



"Don't step in the mortar box!" "The dust is so thick I can hardly breathe." "How long will it be until the clocks are hooked up?"—And the student body spreads out into rooms still unfinished but furnished with pneumatic drill noises and thermostat-adjusters and chalk-board hangers.

Construction is months ahead of schedule and the students are minutes behind with, "How do they expect us to walk from the shop to one-seventeen in only three minutes?"

Lunch room. Lab for controlled study of maximum consumption of chocolate chip cookies . . . Hello, little chile bean . . . didn't we meet yesterday? . . . I'll have another helping of gossip, please.



Go sonny! come on, Butch!
That's my boy—yea River!

This is Dr. Davis' tenth year of service to Rocky River's Schools. Under his direction, expansion and improvement of educational facilities has been continuous.

As superintendent, he is in charge of the entire operation of the schools and must see that the school program continually improves. One of his main responsibilities is the securing of competent instructors for the Rocky River Schools.

Giving much of their time in community service, the Board of Education members endeavor to maintain the high standards of the Rocky River school system. With the responsibility of providing the best possible education for boys and girls, the Board sets school policies. Board member Wilbert Miller was replaced in the Fall elections by Mr. Francis J. Amer.

Mr. Robert C. Cawrse

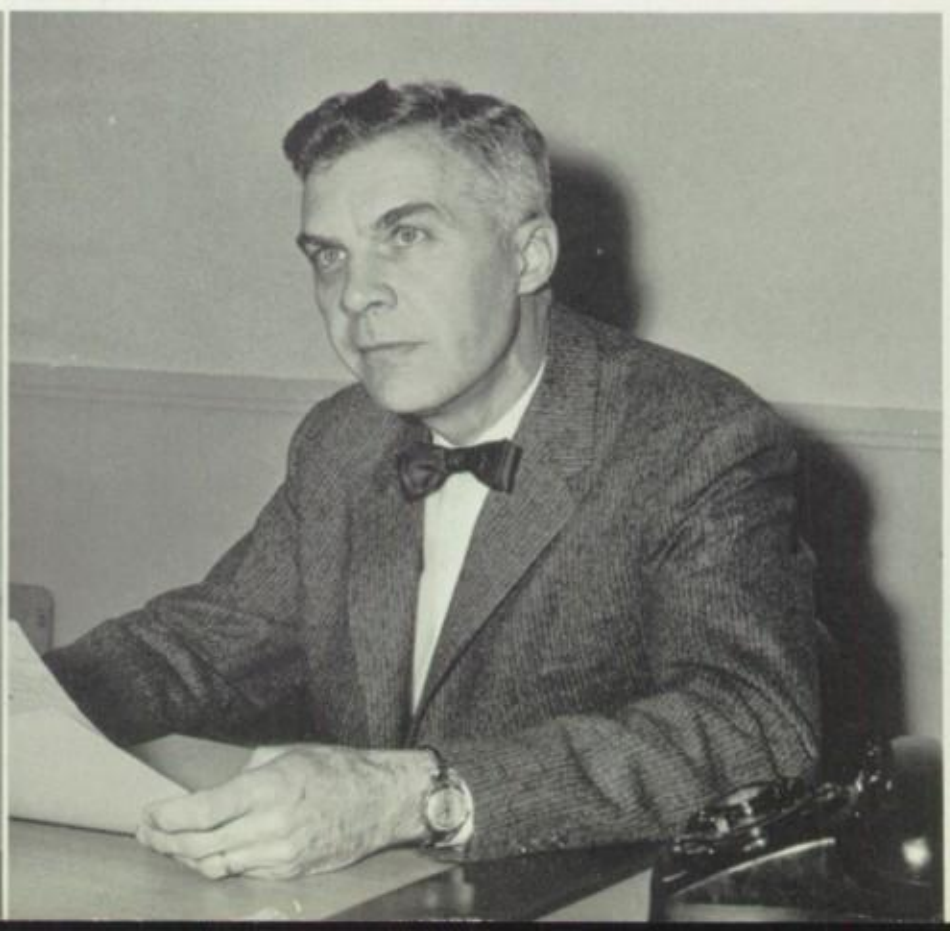
Mr. Cawrse's 1957-58 school season began with the arrival of a seven-pound bundle of masculine joy on the opening day of school. Another arrival that keeps Mr. Cawrse busy is the school's new addition which contains seventeen classrooms besides special conference and production rooms. He can often be seen disappearing down the almost limitless new hall on his way to check the final stages of construction or to make some of the countless decisions necessary concerning the furnishings. (Blinds or drapes? Tan filing cabinets or green?)

The girls at Rocky River can depend on a genuine concern for their difficulties and problems from Miss McKee. Much of Miss McKee's time is spent in counseling but she also acts as adviser to the Student Council and heads the English department. Her very early morning special meetings are invaluable aids to students desiring to catch up on some previously neglected phase of English.

Mr. Bennett, the man of many titles, is our assistant principal, Dean of Boys, Hi-Y adviser, Safety Committee adviser, physical science teacher and self-appointed Rocky River High School Chamber of Commerce. In an era when DA haircuts and beltless loops are considered high fashion by some, Mr. Bennett has been the bane of those who would be fashionable.

Miss Frances McKee

Mr. Arthur Bennett



Mr. Robert K. Payne
Mr. Edgar C. Burford

Mr. Payne finds himself in surroundings somewhat strange this year—room 114. To add to the pleasantness of a new classroom, he and his Hi-Tide staff have a large room of their own in which they assemble the school paper late on Thursday nights. Possibly the size of the room is part of an experiment to see if production of the Hi-Tide is possible outside the previously used broom closet. Mr. Payne cultivates English, journalism, and ferns.

An advocate of the Ivy League Look, Mr. Burford is a new addition to River this year. A graduate of Cornell University and a former Air Force pilot, he is now working on his doctorate at Western Reserve. He possesses an extensive library and extensive interests. He willingly shares both with his students.

"Alrrright boys and girls" and class begins in room 106. A ten hour day is routine for Miss White for intercom brings her here early each morning and play practices keep her late in the evening. She also teaches English, mathematics, speech, directs the stage crew, and is adviser of the Neophyte-Thespian group.

If enthusiasm for the subject is an aid to good teaching, then Miss Gray's classes are particularly blessed. Where is there an ex-student who can read or hear the name Robert Frost and not think of Miss Gray? Teaching sophomore and junior English classes, advising the Student Council, and supervising the hall monitoring system fill her day before driving aggressively back to her home on the East Side.

Miss Edith A. White
Miss Dorothy Gray

Mr. Vincent A. Gandolfi
Mr. Richard B. Hoskin

A tan jacket and brown felt hat are Mr. Gandolfi's trade marks as he paces up and down the sidelines urging the team on to victory. Jokes at the annual awards assembly, a smile for everyone and patience, patience, make Mr. Gandolfi a favorite at River. He teaches driver education and plane geometry. "Locus is really going to throw you for a loop."

River High's three-dimensional philosopher, Mr. Hoskin, instructs junior and senior math classes. While receiving an excellent background in mathematics, students find the possibilities of receiving one hundred percent on one of his exams highly improbable. As an assistant football coach and coach of the junior varsity basketball squad, he strives to develop character and sportsmanship (and a winning team). Mr. Hoskin's career may have taken a giant step forward this year—he finally has a room of his own.

Crises may come and go but the art department keeps at least one end of the building stable. Quiet cooperation from the department is never lacking, a reflection, no doubt, of Miss Summer's personality. Questions about oils, watercolor, sketching, sculpture, leatherworking, metal working? Miss Summer has the answers. She likes exhibits and lectures, photography, and music.

Miss Bernice M. Summer

Mr. William J. Donnelly
Mr. Roy C. Bullington

From the podium, proof positive that women started the Civil War, that Betsy Ross did not make the first American flag, that Washington sat down while crossing the Delaware. Vigorous droodles on the blackboard—A Battle Plan! And, in the distance, sounds of drum and fife. Nearer at hand, Mr. Donnelly, teacher of American history, adviser of Current Forum, rider of motorcycles.

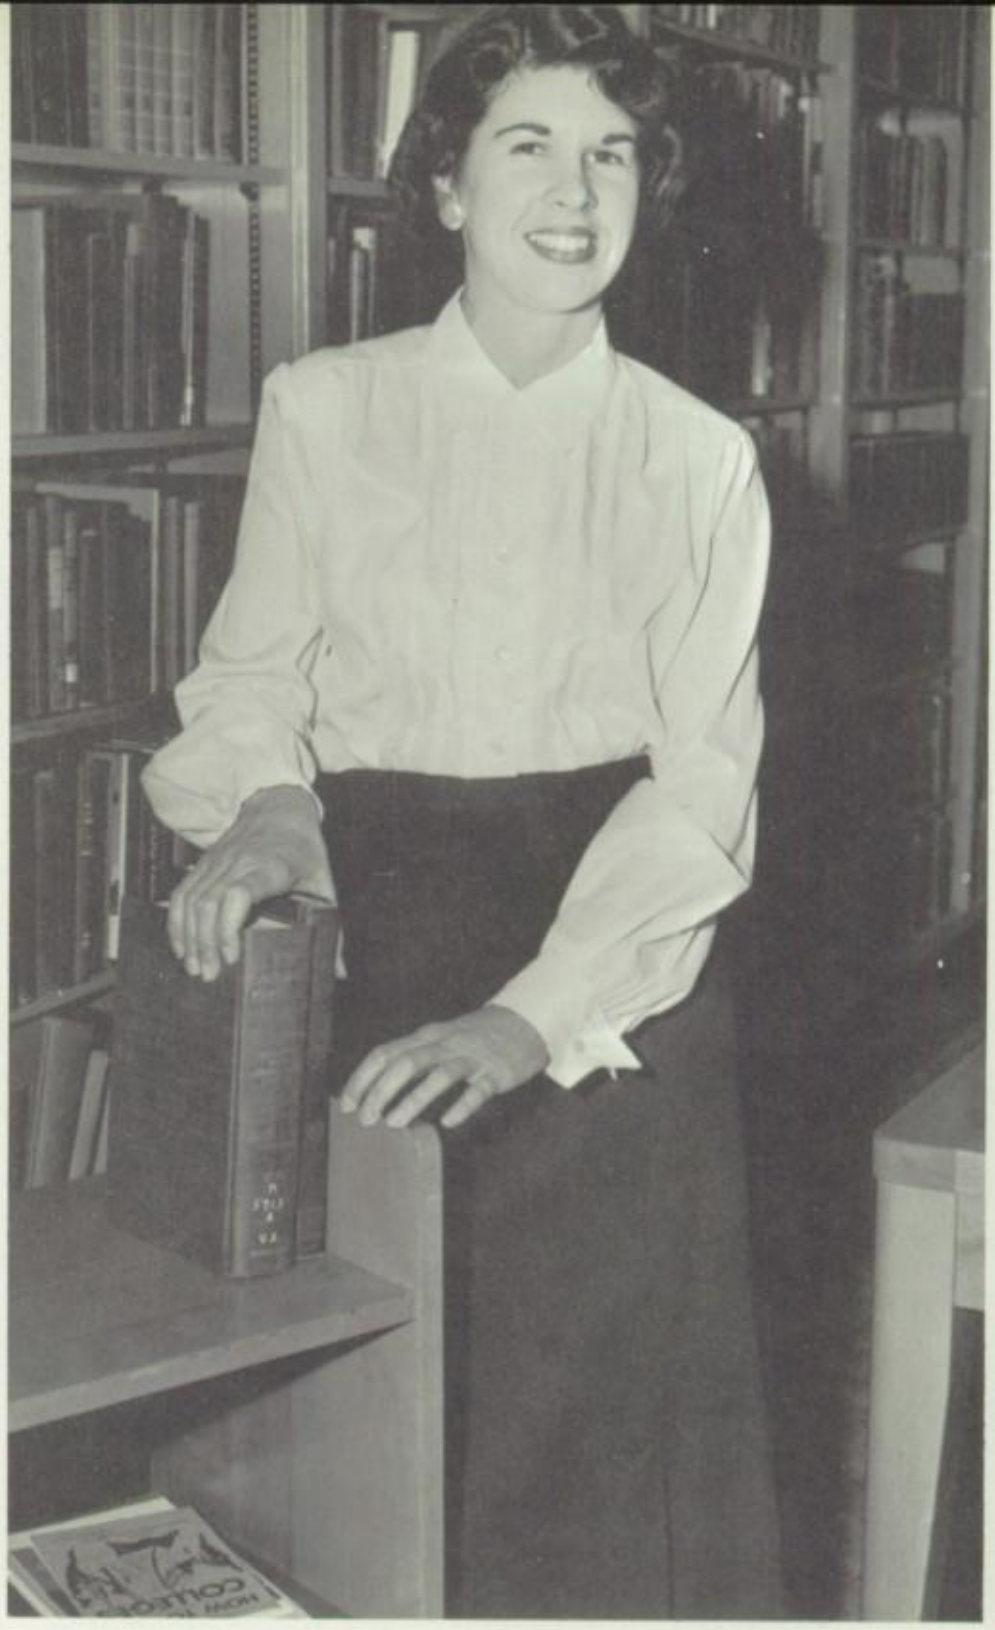
"Play ball!" Familiar words are these to Mr. Bullington, River's baseball fan and coach. Each spring brings the desire to qualify for the state playoffs. Mr. Bullington has become noted for his words of encouragement to a lagging team. Anecdotes brighten his world history, international relations and social problems classes, impressing upon one's mind a vivid picture of an otherwise hazy character or event in history.

With, "Quiz. Get a quarter sheet of paper," Mr. Brady, chin in hand and elbow on filing cabinet, prefaces the world history period. English is his other assigned subject, the Riverlet his assigned worry, music and a hydroplane his escape mechanisms.

Career counseling and advising the Hi-Y Club are major extra-curricular activities for Mr. Agnor, while world history and algebra are his classroom subjects. In his spare time he enjoys reading, golfing, singing, and, after a little pressure from his wife, birdwatching. His quick grin at a joke is a pleasure to see.

Mr. Marion Brady
Mr. Herbert E. Agnor, Jr.

Miss Patricia L. Armstrong



It would be interesting if Miss Armstrong, our librarian, did not like to read. However, she does. She also likes to tell amusing stories, to be of assistance, to travel, and to work at Lakewood Hospital on weekends. With the coming of snow, the possibility always exists that the year will be completed with a substitute for Miss Armstrong. Miss Armstrong likes to ski.

To Rocky River from Parma High came, this year, a most unusual man—a choir director who also sings. Mr. Shurtleff spends his afternoons at Beach School and his mornings at the high school, preparing the choir for one of its 8 1957-58 engagements. Tennis, swimming, and membership in the tenor section of the Cleveland Orchestra Chorus are some of Mr. Shurtleff's interests.

"I've got a great idea!" And sure enough, Mr. Thomas, versatile musician and hat wearer, does. The half-time shows by the band are different. They are also good, for Mr. Thomas obviously believes that the primary function of a band is to be heard, and above par music is the result. Mr. Thomas guides the Music Appreciation Club, The Velvetones, and blows cornet. "Shut up, you flutes."

Mr. Harlan L. Thomas

Miss Patricia A. Schrock, Miss Virginia Richmond, Mrs. Sara C. Walther

Admiring the great Manolete and owning one million pairs of shoes, Miss Schrock began her first year of teaching at Rocky River High School. Ohio State is her alma mater, although she has also studied at the Mexico City College. Miss Schrock knows even the little known facts about little known Spaniards.

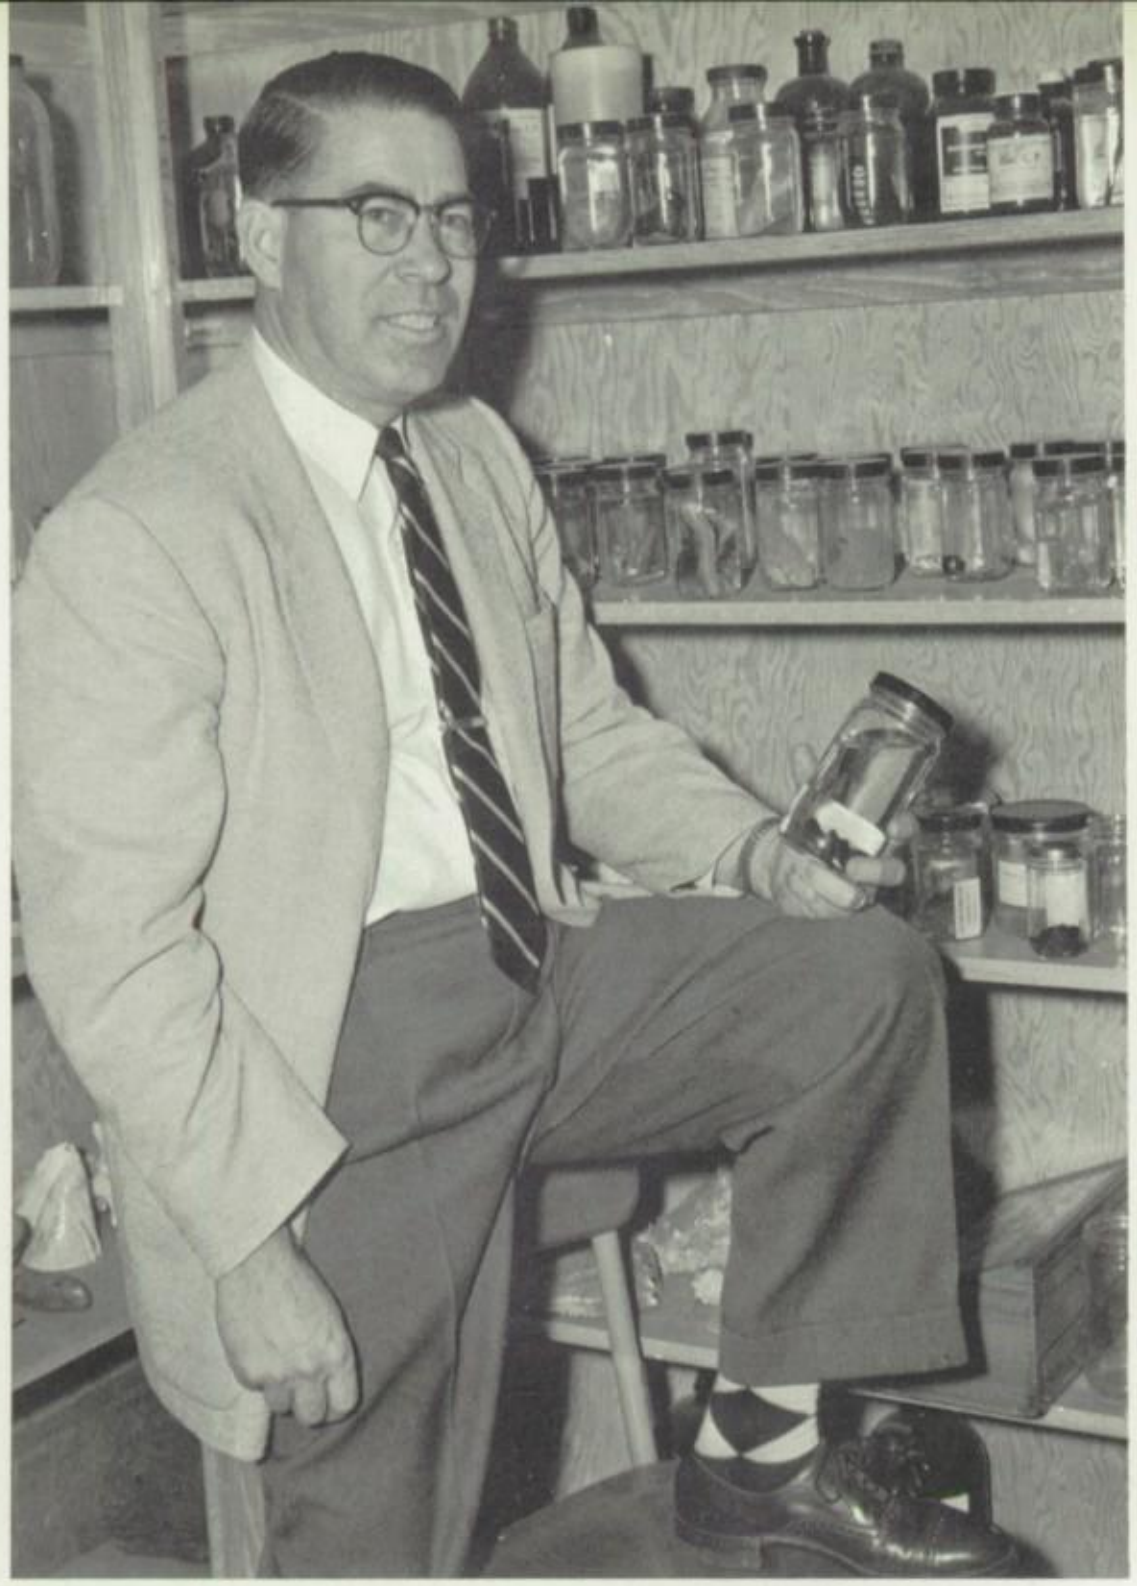
It is inconceivable that Latin would be a dead language today if the Romans who spoke it had been anything like the teacher who teaches it. Miss Richmond's down-to-earth humor almost makes it come alive. Familiarity with French, German, Greek and, of course, Latin (she even speaks it!) testify to her linguistic ability. She has added a third year Latin class this year and is one of the Friendship Club advisers.

"Bonjour classe."

Mrs. Walther has a fluency in French that occasionally carries into the following period's study hall and a proficiency in knitting that has consumed yarn sufficient to reach from here to France. She has an apparently inexhaustible supply of candy bars and the co-advisership of the Neophyte-Thespians. She has, also, an ability to analyze handwriting and strew her belongings.

The source of an occasional cookie smell and the fashion center of RRHS is room 202, headquarters of the home economics department and its adviser, Miss Whaling. Sewing projects lead to the spring style show, and baking projects lead, at least occasionally, to the departments' deepfreeze. Besides the work in her department, Miss Whaling is president of the Rocky River's Educator's Association and an adviser to the Friendship Club.

Miss Delphine E. Whaling



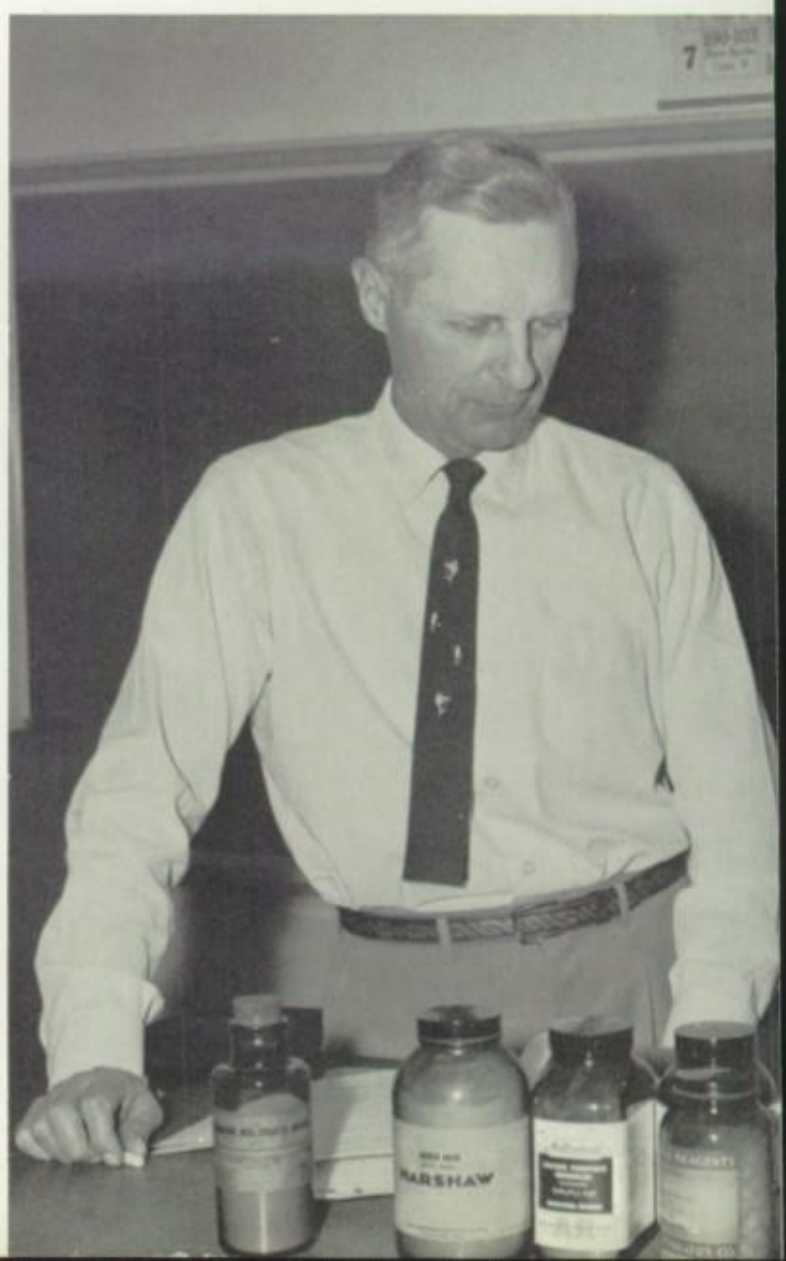
Mr. Marsdon U. Grubb

Most of Mr. Grubb's interests are in things that grow—tropical fish in the aquarium, plants in the growing room, a large garden at home, and students in the classroom. He teaches biology and advises a popular and active nature study club—Iyaku.

What's in the bottles? Remember that boy who kept coming in after the bell. . .

"I have one pound of apples and one pound of peaches." A man of great patience is Mr. Bridenbaugh. He leads through the maze of elements and compounds, electrons and protons though many falter. It is a mystery how he manages the amateur chemist, whose mistakes range from a schoolful of sulphur fumes to the inevitable explosion. Patience is aided by periods of hunting and fishing. Mr. Bridenbaugh is secretary-treasurer of the Southwestern Athletic Conference.

Mr. Arthur J. Bridenbaugh



"Wow, we're really making progress!" Physics, a scientific course dealing with all types of energy and its practical applications, is taught energetically by Mr. Maxwell. Adviser of the Photography Club and a photography enthusiast, Mr. Maxwell, with camera, is a common sight.

Mr. Donald Frail
Mr. Paul Crites

Mr. John Maxwell

Mr. Frail, one of the three musketeers (Messrs. Frail, Gandolfi, Hoskin) teaches biology, mechanical drawing and general shop. It is the considered opinion of the girls that mechanical drawing and general shop should be part of their curriculum. In his capacity as an adviser to Pirate Club, a track coach, and as assistant football coach, he has earned the confidence, respect and friendship of the students.

From the shop at the far end of the south hall come end tables, automobiles, bookshelves, machine work, nicknacks and an enormous star to decorate the Wagar entrance at Christmas. Mr. Crites knows about these things for he is the manual arts teacher. The Shop Craft Club is his major extra-curricular activity.

"Twist, flex, shake; now let's have a big round of applause...open your books to typing exercise 23." After a summer of fishing, Mr. William Hooker teaches typing, salesmanship, personal law, schedules all athletic events, audits the Parent-Teacher Association's books, bowls, and looks forward to another summer of fishing.

Turning out able secretaries is the goal of Miss Goldie Strawn in her courses of typing and shorthand. She heads the production staff which aids many organizations by making stencils and mimeographing club papers. Her help with the yearbook typing has been invaluable.
Miss Strawn is interested in ceramics.

Mr. William Hooker
Miss Goldie Strawn

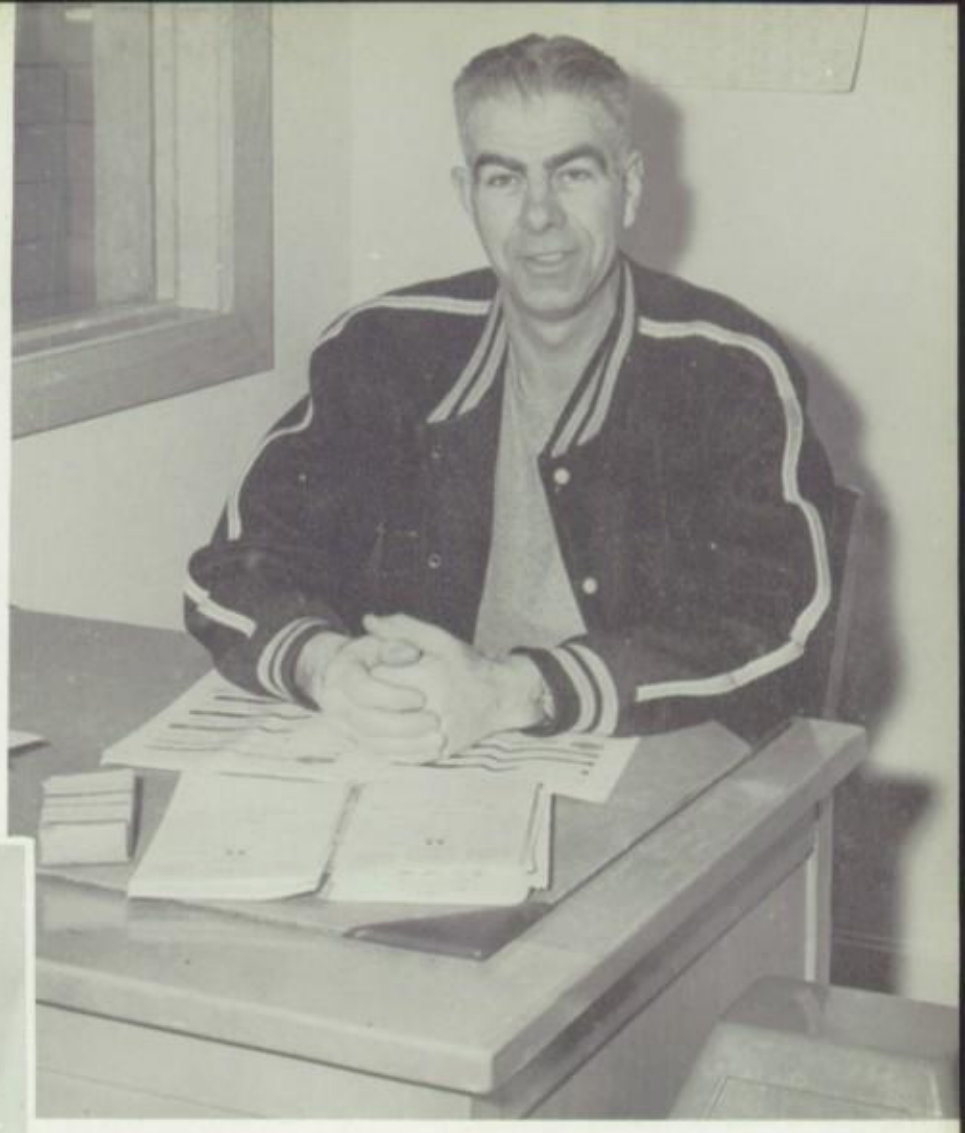
The rush at the supply room door at 8:25 is capably and serenely handled by our school treasurer Mrs. Sinnett. Besides the supply room, she keeps busy filling out the students permanent records and sending the seniors transcripts to various colleges.

Mrs. Ada Edmonds is an indispensable source of information to River students. In addition to being the principal's secretary, she operates the switchboard, types stencils, and writes passes. Energetic Mrs. Edmonds participates in three bowling leagues.

Mrs. Vera Sinnett
Mrs. Ada Edmonds

Mr. Randall Motts

The first comment of those who have been coached by tall Mr. Motts usually make some reference to a "firm, even temper." He teaches all boys' gym and health classes, advises the Varsity R Club, directs the boys' intramural sport program and is in charge of River's efforts to defeat all competitors on the basketball floor.



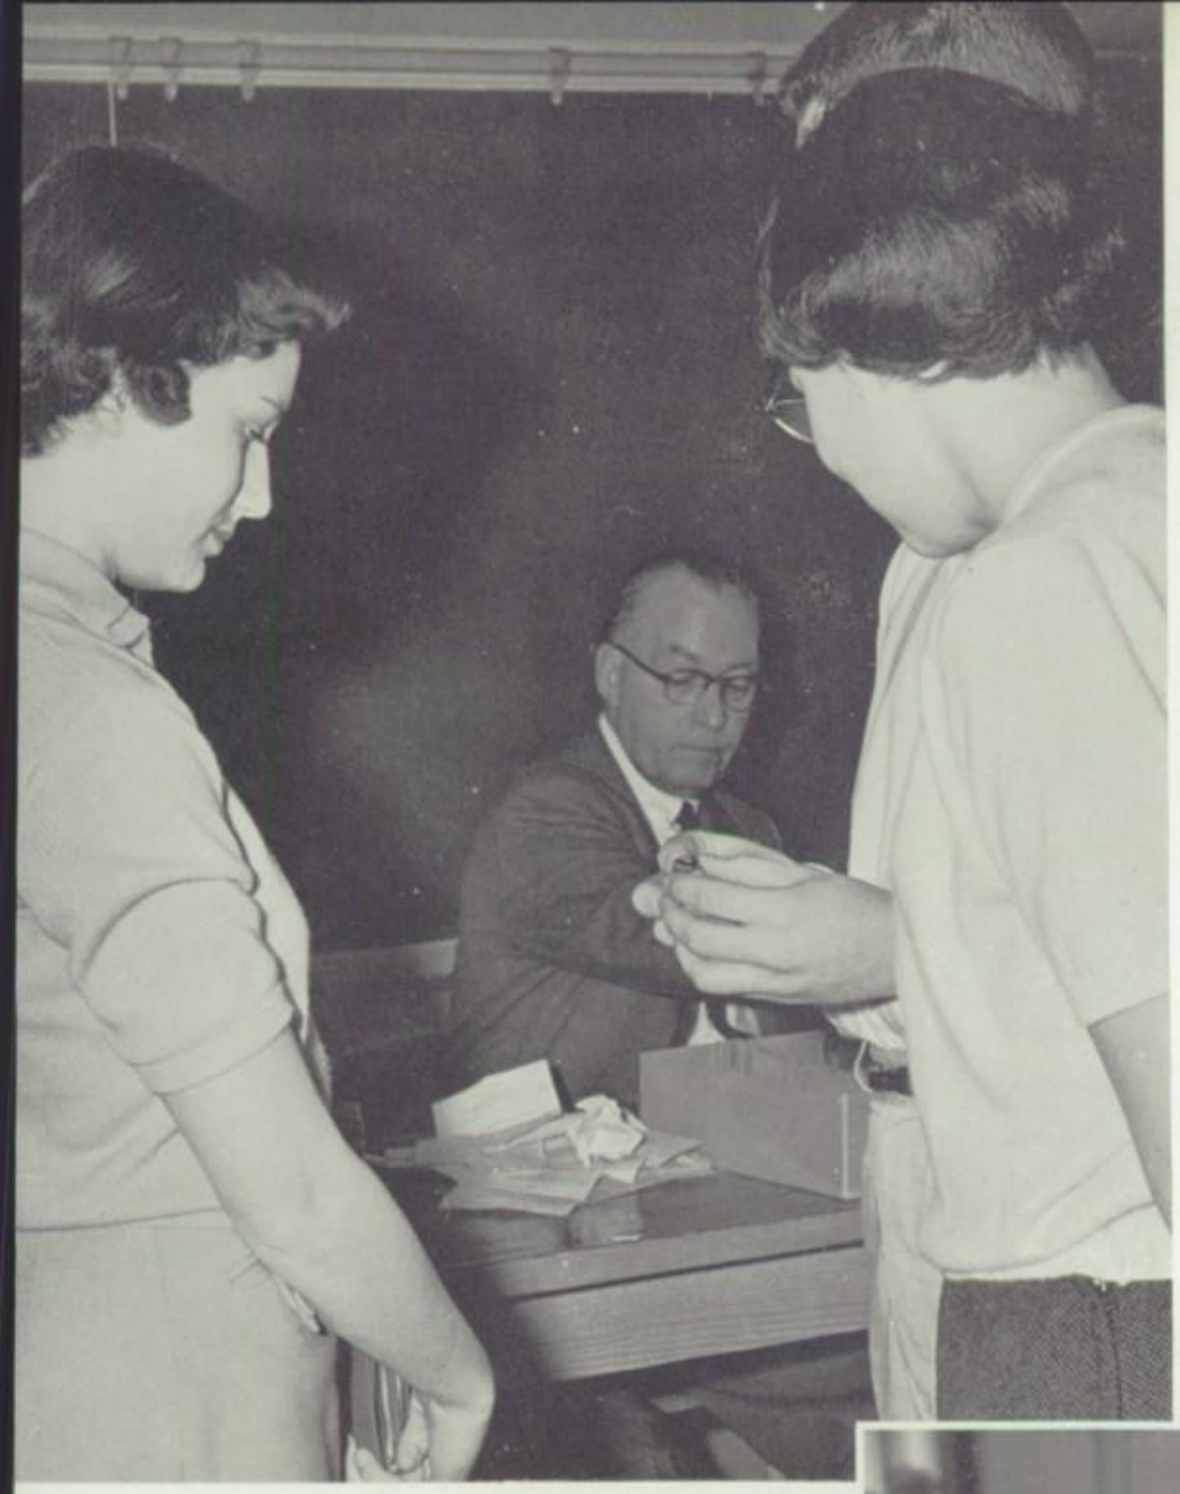
In the fall, hockey was added to the girls' physical education and intramural program.

Miss Christine Baumgardner

Miss Baumgardner is the girls' physical education teacher and has complete charge of all activities related to the program. She teaches the sophomore health and gym classes and is in charge of girls' intramurals and the Leaders' Club.

Miss "B" is the only person permitted to wear Bermudas in the halls during school hours.

SPECIAL EVENTS



For payment of the balance due to the gentleman in the background, any junior could have his 1959 class ring.

The connection between this picture and a special event may not immediately be apparent. However, what the picture may lack in ability to tell a story is more than made up for by its being completely unposed. A second before, Kathy Kinnison was doing exactly what she appears to be doing—choosing from a 1957 Riverlet and loose pictures a prospective date for the annual Kick-Off Dance.

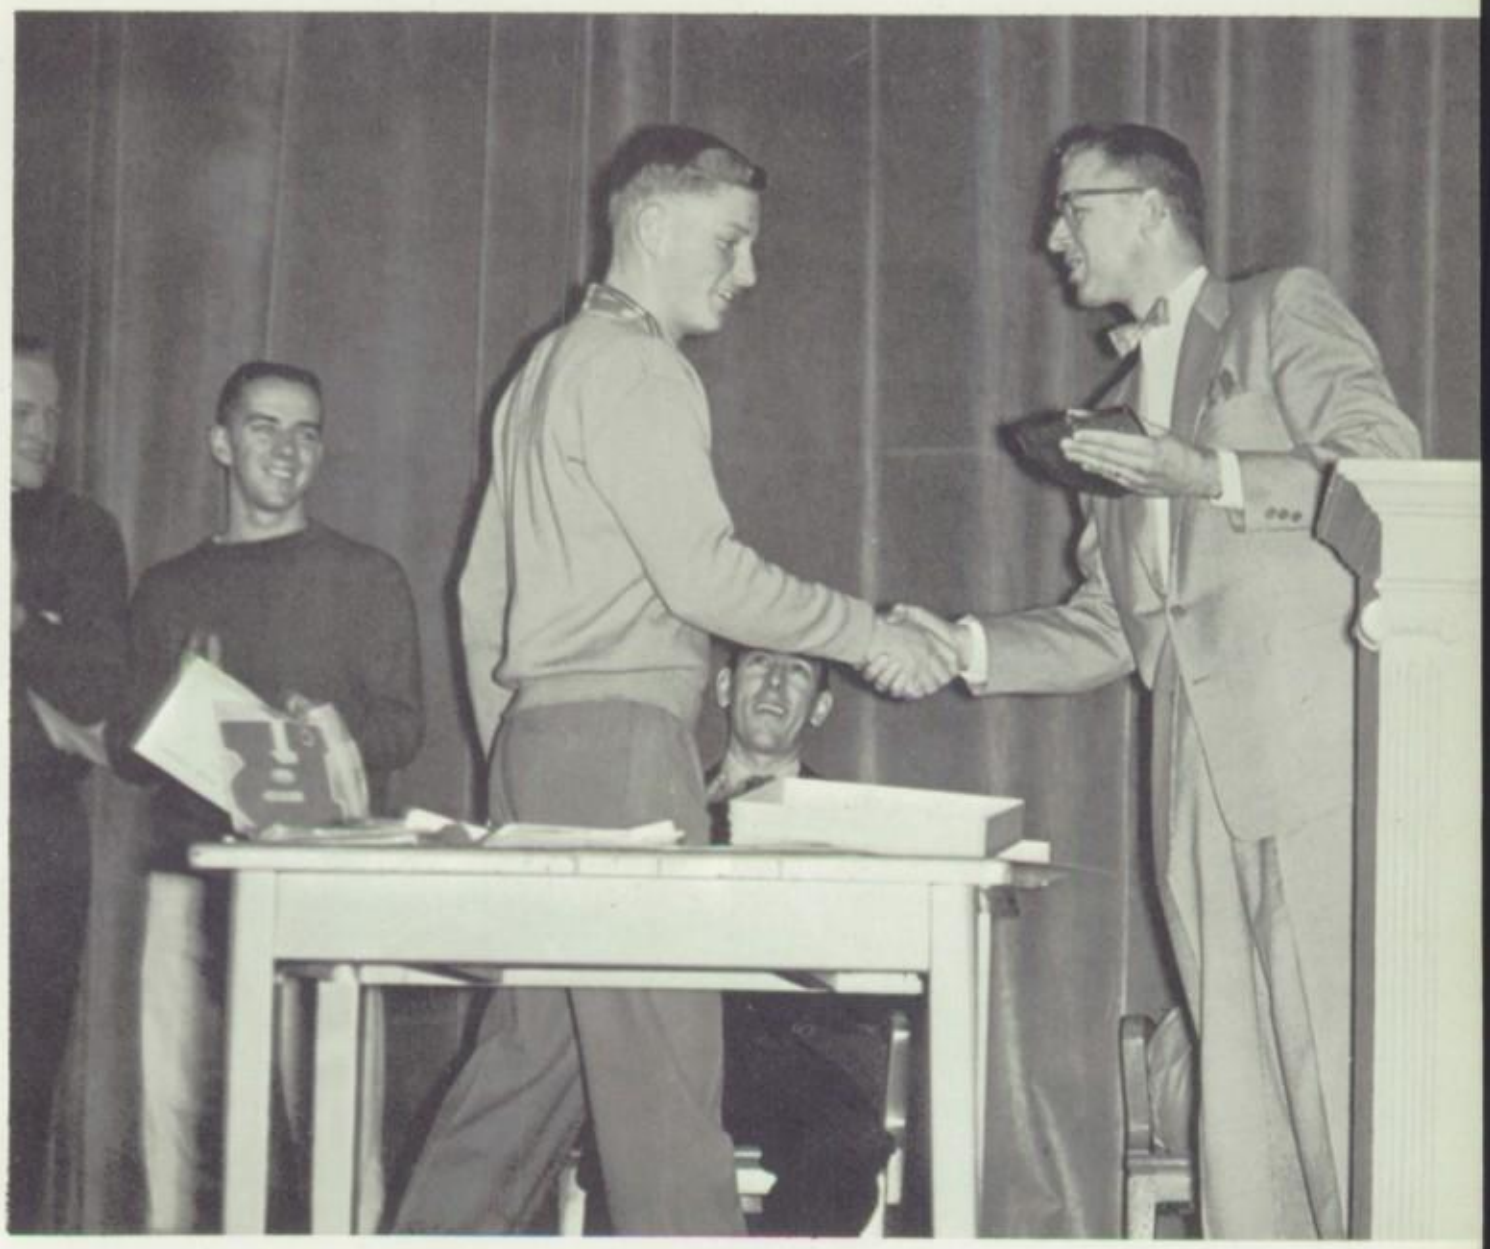
High point of the post-football season is the Awards Assembly. Letters and certificates are awarded and co-captains are announced for the following year. This year's assembly was climaxed by the presentation of the American Legion Sportsmanship Plaque to team-elected George Woodling. Mr. Wendell Shott, commander of Rocky River Post Number 451 made the presentation. In the background are this year's co-captains, Bill Edwards and Graham Hall, and Mr. William Hooker, Athletic Director.



AWARDS ASSEMBLY

The West, wild and woolly, was the theme of the Senior Party. Range riders, tinhorn gamblers, Injuns, and their appropriate female counterparts suspended hostilities for one night of disorganized volleyball, basketball, skits, and dancing.

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

Mr. Harry Strothers, Principal of Rocky River Junior High School, spoke at the induction ceremony of National Honor Society.

Few there are who would maintain there is a greater honor than being elected to membership in the National Honor Society. Seventeen seniors and nine juniors were inducted in an impressive ceremony the morning of February the thirteenth.

Well, hooray for the winners of the Junior Party's annual bag race!

CHRISTMAS FORMAL

December 14, dates danced to the music of Dick Elick's Band in an atmosphere of "Fascination" created by misty blue trees, snowflakes, and silver tinsel. Between dances Gail Allmen, Greg Shaw, Bobbi Palmer, Mike Dittoe, Charla Tierce, and Jerry Boylan gather for a moment of obviously enjoyable conversation.

There is laughter and fun in the auditorium. Suddenly YOU, who have been poking fun at your classmates, find yourself on the stool of ridicule. A small man with glasses is instructing you on how to sit properly. You flash your best smile; someone in the back row yells "cheese," you wince, there is a click, and one more junior picture joins the file in the Rogue's Gallery of the Riverlet.

River averages about one assembly a week, usually on Friday morning. Programs are varied, some primarily educational, some entertaining, some a little of both. The picture below was taken at the George Jason Assembly. As the picture may indicate, it was somewhat more entertaining than educational. Mr. Jason is an actor, musician and magician.

The choir rehearses, Emily and George talk a little of lessons, and stars, and love. It's Wednesday night in "Our Town."

FRIENDSHIP

"Attention Friendship Girls!" Those words have been heard over the intercom time and time again announcing the coming activities planned by the Friendship cabinet members and their committees. "What It Was, Was Football" kicked off the year with football coach Vincent Gandolfi as the guest speaker. A Christmas dinner and several commentaries on religion as a special lenten series stand out as high spots in the year's diversified activities. The traditional "Pa-Ma-Me" held in May introduced the incoming officers and cabinet. Club advisers are Miss Delphine Whaling, Miss Patricia Armstrong, Miss Patricia Schrock, and Miss Virginia Richmond.

Versatility is a good definition of the Hi-Y Club's programs, projects, and plans. Projects include giving Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners to needy families, selling refreshments at basketball games, and electing a representative to "Youth in Government" at Columbus. Programs range from one on baseball by Gene Woodling to one about state government by Frank Siedel.

THESPIANS

A flu epidemic contended with "Come Out of the Kitchen" to prevent the usual full house which almost automatically accompanies any Rocky River High School play. The play, a three-act comedy, depicts the havoc wrought when four children are left in charge of the household by their European-bound parents.

The production was presented on the second and third of November under the capable direction of Miss Edith A. White.

Finishing the 1957 football season with a record of 5—3, the Rocky River Pirates placed second in the Southwestern Football Conference, behind Bay Village, North Olmsted, and Oberlin, who tied for first. The three lost games were heart-breaking to the team and its three coaches, Mr. Vincent Gandolfi, Mr. Donald Frail, and Mr. Richard Hoskin, for the difference between success and failure was only 15 points.

The Pirates, under co-captains Bill Edwards and Graham Hall, began their season by trampling Brooklyn 39—0, on Friday September 13. For the fifth straight year, a River eleven shut Brooklyn out.

In the first conference game of the season, Fairview played host to River. Although River finally won, many a Pirate supporter was on the edge of his seat as River trailed 13—12 at the end of the third quarter. The margin of victory depended on Chuck Fay's 64 yard run in the fourth quarter. River won 19—13.

On September 27, River walloped Olmsted Falls by a score of 47—6. Bill Edwards ran 85 yards for a touchdown and Chuck Wright recovered a fumble and went four yards for the score.

The Pirate's luck ran out as Oberlin stopped them 19—12 at Oberlin. River's touchdowns were made by Bill Edwards, on a 69 yard punt return, and Greg Shaw, who caught a pass from quarterback Denny Draeger.

Fighting to get back into the winning column, the River eleven met an inspired Westlake team on October 11. Inspiration was not enough to contain River's rugged attack and the game ended in River's favor, 13—0.

A poor first half, in which Bay scored its 14 points, was the cause of a Pirate defeat at the Rocket's hands 14—13. After the half, River scored 13 points but couldn't catch Bay.

Big and powerful, North Olmsted scored 20 points to River's 13, giving the Pirates their third lose.

River won the final game of the season on November 1, by trouncing Medina. Bill Napier ran back two successive Medina punts for touchdowns.

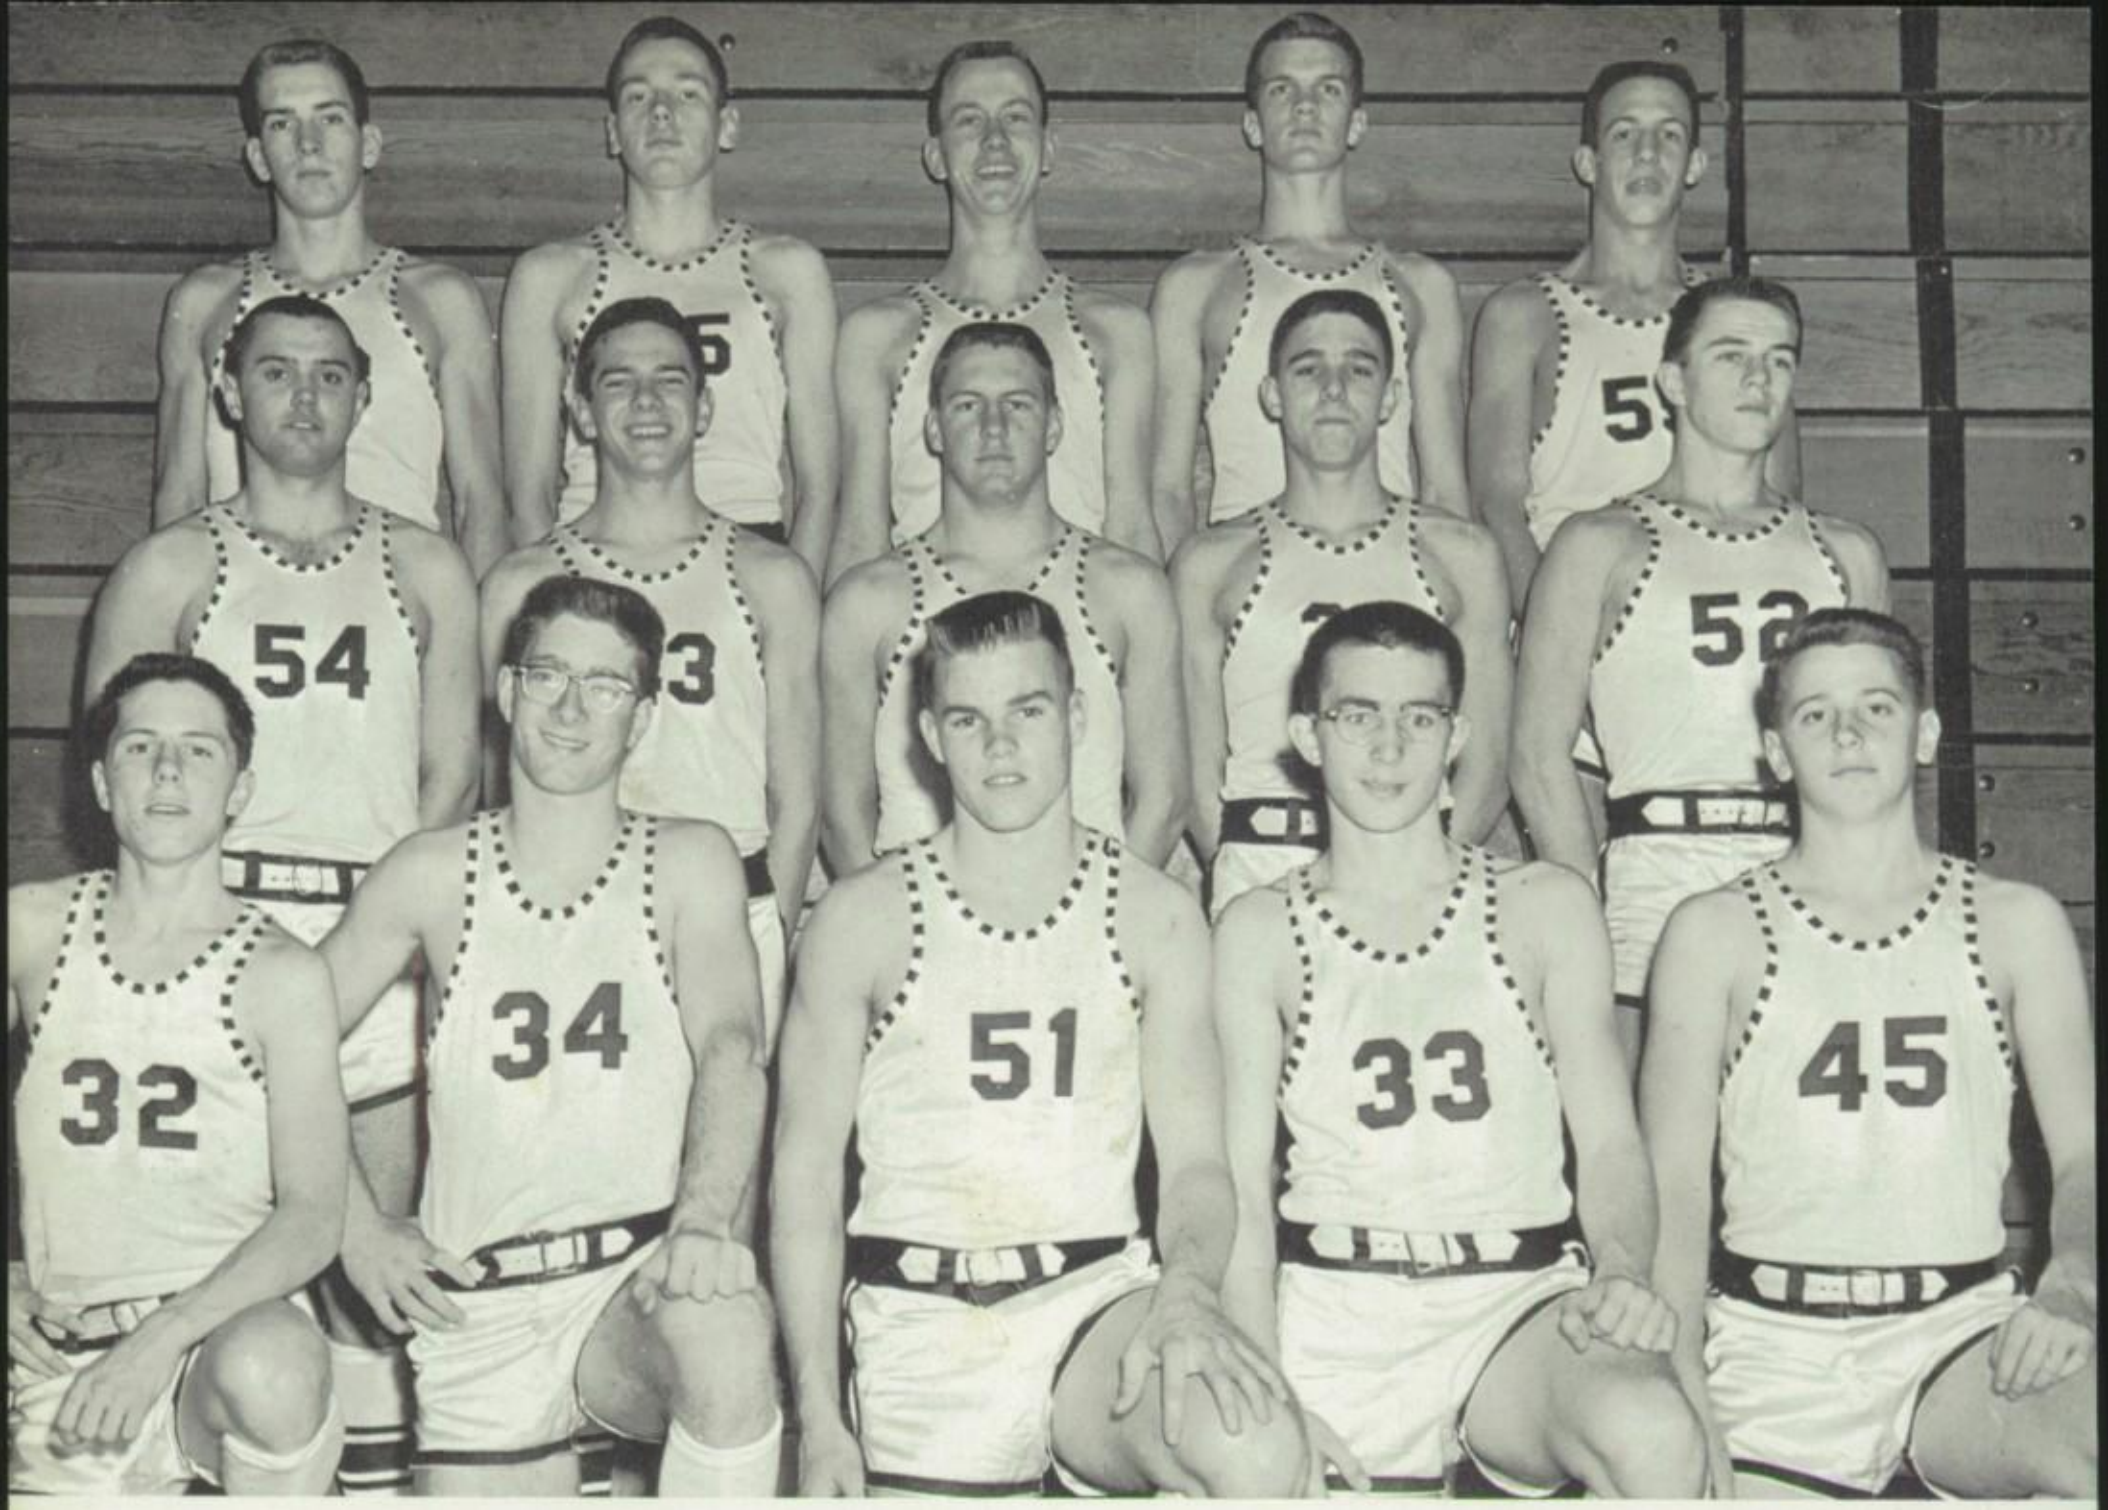
JUNIOR VARSITY

The 1957—58 J.V. Football team played only two games, both with Bay Village. The first game, River outscored Bay there by a score of 13—7. However, playing their second game here, River's Pirate J.V.'s were edged 13—12 by the Bay Rockets. Gerry Hill helped the faculty coaches by instructing the J.V. boys during the training period.

The shortage of competition was partially due to the lack of other S.W. Conference Schools to organize J.V. teams. The Asiatic Flu also took its toll.

At the Awards Assembly, November 12, twenty-four sophomore boys received J.V. Football letters on the basis of quarters played.

BASKETBALL



VARSITY

The Pirate Basketball squad of 1957—58 under the capable direction of Randall H. Motts, lived up to the well-known adage "experience is the best teacher." The fact that they began league play without a single returning letterman proved no obstacle to a determined River squad. As the season progressed the Pirates rapidly became a team to be respected by its opponents.

Lanky sophomore center Dave Roderick was high in River's scoring column, while seniors Dick McDaniel, a forward, and Bill Hinsdale, a guard, also ranked high in shooting and rebounding. Senior Gerry Hill, at guard, and juniors Jack Onder and Mike McElroy, alternating at forward, completed the first string varsity.

With a varsity squad averaging over six feet in height, River was able to control the backboards in many instances. They also provided fine defensive play to complement scoring ability.

The Pirates, competing in an extremely well-balanced Southwestern Conference, saw many of their victories and losses decided in the closing seconds of the game.

Sailing to a tremendous record of 12 wins and two losses this year, and out-scoring its opponents by about 200 points, the 1957—58 J.V. Basketball Squad promises a great two years of basketball to come.

This year's baseball team, coached by Mr. Roy C. Bullington, will have a long way to go to equal the tremendous record posted by last year's squad. In the 1957 season Coach Bullington piloted his hard-hitting Pirates to another Southwest Conference championship, winning seven out of eight games. Five of the wins were shut-outs, and one, a victory over Westlake, was a no-hitter. River's only loss was to Lorain in the first round of district play-offs competition. Lorain went on to the state finals before being eliminated. In 1957 the Pirates scored 44 runs to 14 of the opposition. They collected 67 hits averaging 8.4 hits per game. The Pirates have been undefeated in the Southwest Conference for several years. Since the League does not sponsor baseball as a League sport, there has been no trophy or recognition.

Six returning lettermen will lend experience to the 1958 squad. They are Jack Onder, Mike McElroy, Jerry Hill, Dennis Draeger, Robin Clark, and Tom Moir. Another successful season is anticipated.

Last year Coach Donald Frail added another trophy to his already full collection, when he captured the Southwest Conference Championship for the fifth straight year. His determined thinclads also took firsts in the River Relays and the Suburban I Division in the Arena Meet.

Coach Frail can look forward to another outstanding track team in the 1958 season. The pace set by last year's cindermen will be hard to equal, but with the return of seven lettermen and a promising crew of sophomores and juniors, the team shows much potential.

The returning lettermen include: Chuck Fay and Dick McDaniel in the hurdles, Vance Carter and Bill Edwards in the sprints, Greg Shaw in the quarter-mile, Bob Tarkany in the distances, and Bill Napier in the high jump and pole vault.

MAY THE PLEASURE BE YOURS IN '78

We, the members of the Rocky River High School Booster Club, take this opportunity to wish the class of 1958 every success that the World has to offer.

It has been gratifying to all of us to have been a part of that period of your life which saw you grow from children into mature young men and women . . . and to feel that the school activities made possible by our efforts were, in some small measure, contributing to that maturity.

We would ask no more of you, in return, than that you, too, will recognize the value of such organizations as the Boosters Club . . . and that when your day in '78 comes you'll be ready, willing, and able to perpetuate such activities . . . in behalf of your future generation.

Sincerely,

The Boosters Club

of ROCKY RIVER HIGH SCHOOL

Congratulations to the Class of 1958
